Mission Animation - Sharing Mission

High school can be stressful. While many students are rather desperate to find a place to "fit in," many are trying to be more self-reliant. I recall a story told by Fr. Mark Link SJ.

There was a new freshman girl walking in the hallway between classes. She saw a sophomore girl having trouble taping a large poster to the wall. The younger girl offered to help, thinking she might also find a friend. The sophomore snapped, "I don't need help!" The freshman shrugged her shoulders, walked away sad, and sat down.

What a difference compared to Jesus' ministry. One of the first things Jesus did after his baptism in the Jordan was to call Andrew and John to follow him. Andrew called his brother, Simon Peter, to join the group. Then Jesus called Philip, and Philip called his friend Nathanael. Back in Galilee, Jesus called James and Matthew. Not long after, Jesus called twelve of his followers to share more closely in his mission.

What a difference from the apparently frustrated response of the sophomore girl in the story! Jesus does not say, I don't need help. Rather, he asked them to go the towns of Galilee to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal. When Jesus later "turned his face to Jerusalem" and to his expected passion, he sent out another seventy disciples, two-by-two, to the towns of Samaria where he would be passing through.

It is startling that the man who walked on water, raised people from the dead, healed the sick, and fed thousands would ask for help.

Some missionaries make the mistake of the sophomore girl in the story. They take everything into their own hands – building chapels without help from the people, taking control of every committee or parish organization, teaching religious education without the help of local catechists, leading the choir and even arranging the flowers!!

Wiser missionaries follow Jesus' example and take every opportunity to invite people to share in the work and the resting, in the planning and the evaluation of projects, and in the sorrows and celebrations of the community. That is mission animation – giving people the encouragement they need to go out and share good news with others.

Do you wonder how the story of the two high school students concluded?

Ten minutes after the sophomore student said she didn't need help, the freshman student got up and walked by the sign. Ironically it announced: "Working together, we can do anything!"

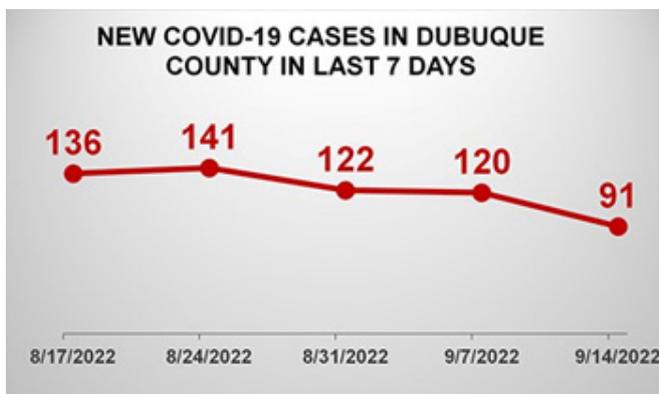

Jesus has a better idea. He shares his life and ministry with us in both word and deed. We can do the same with others.

COVID-19 Guidance

Happily, in recent days, the number of new COVID-19 infections has dropped rapidly in Dubuque County.

Nationwide, the number of new cases also dropped by 15.9% over the previous week.

DWC has begun random testing for the virus. Some members of the student body, faculty, and staff are requested to take a rapid test each week to help monitor the situation at the College. No members of the College community are currently in isolation due to COVID-19 infections.

HLC Interim Monitoring Report: Submitted September 2022

Following the accreditation visit in 2019, the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) required Divine Word College to submit an Interim Monitoring Report in the area of assessment addressing the following Core Components:

- Demonstrate that different degree levels (associate vs bachelors) have distinct sets of learning outcomes (3.A)
- Demonstrate assessment of student learning with regard to the Core Competencies and the major program PLOs. For components, the institution should report what data has been collected, how it has been analyzed, and how data has been used to prompt changes to the curriculum (4.B)

I am pleased to report that DWC has now submitted the Interim Monitoring Report to the Higher Learning Commission two full months ahead of the November 2022 deadline! A lot of work went into this widely collaborative effort, one that involved the contributions of both faculty and administration through the Academic Assessment Committee, the Faculty Senate, and departmental faculty. I want to extend special thanks to the members of the HLC Interim Monitoring Report Committee: Dr. Mathew Kanjirathinkal (co-chair); Dr. Yasmin Rioux (co-chair); Dr. Cathleen Cleary; Dr. Jason Reed; Ms. Kimberly Burnett-Hackbarth, and; Fr. John Szukalski SVD. The report is comprehensive, well written, and supported with actual assessment data provided through faculty evaluation of student signature assignments. We expect to hear back from HLC regarding the acceptance of the report in the near future. I will publish the 35-page report via VPAA memo later this week (minus the 174 pages of appendices).

Garage Sale was a success!

The college's annual Mission Garage Sale last week was a huge success thanks to the time and efforts of many members of the DWC community! We raised more than $5,000 to support Ukrainian refugees in various countries where Divine Word Missionaries serve. Thank you to all who contributed to this event: those who donated items, those who diligently made more than 2,000 egg rolls and other food items to sell, students who worked at the sale in between their classes, the Student Senate members who organized this year's sale and everyone else who helped in a variety of ways. "Through this DWC garage sale, we hope to become witnesses of God's love through the act of charity and self-giving for our brothers and sisters that are in dire need of support," said Student Senate President Omar Picon Gonzalez. Thank you all for your leadership and dedication to the mission!

Defense Mechanism

A defense mechanism is a behavior used to avoid unpleasant feelings, thoughts, events or actions in an unhealthy way. This is a coping strategy in dealing with issues or difficulties in our everyday life. It is a way to protect ourselves from getting hurt. We do this unconsciously. There are common defense mechanisms we usually use, such as denial, projection, repression, regression, rationalization, reaction formation and intellectualization.

According to Freud, the defense mechanism is part of our psychological development. It is natural and somehow, it is positive. However, repeated use of defense mechanisms may hinder our ability to deal with our own feelings and emotions. A healthy way to deal with this is to take accountability for what is going on inside of us and our behaviors towards something that makes us feel uncomfortable.

Campus Safety

The Board of Administration recently discussed safety measures on the DWC campus. The following items were approved to increase safety on campus and will be implemented in the coming months.

1. Additional security cameras will be added to cover the Megan Hall sidewalk and the courtyard.
2. Speed limit signs will be installed in an effort to decrease vehicle speed through the parking lot.
3. Signage throughout campus to indicate that we are a tobacco free campus and that open alcoholic containers are not allowed. (Except for special occasions)
4. The back gate will be closed to decrease vehicles from cutting through the campus parking lot.

In addition to the action items above, we are looking at improved lighting to campus sidewalks and buildings. Lighting options and placement are being examined as part of our facility assessment study which is currently underway.
